

Developments in Water and Health at the World Health Organization

Dr. Jamie Bartram
Tuesday, April 29, 2008
1304 McGavran-Greenberg Hall
3:00 pm

Bio:

Dr. Bartram is with the World Health Organization in Geneva, Switzerland, where he is the coordinator of its program on Managing Environmental Risks to Health. From 1999-2006 he served as Coordinator of WHO's Water, Sanitation and Health Program, and from 2004-2006 he was the Chair of UN-Water, a body charged with providing overall direction and coordinating the water-related activities of 23 agencies of the United Nations and 12 international partner organizations.